YOUR MONEY

Itemize Those Deductions, Maggot!

If you're like us, you'll be spending the weekend relaxing with your accountant as you finish your taxes at the last minute. If only we could employ the services of Seattle's "Tax Domme" Mistress Lori, who specializes in the unique tax situations faced by sex workers. Breast implants? Tax deductible! Hand lotions? Let's hope so!

There's actually something referred to as the "housewife rule" of doing taxes for sex workers/other entertainers - if it's something a housewife would do/buy it's not tax deductible. So, B cup breast implants probably aren't deductible, but EE cup ones are.
